

“When a Cancer comes to call us”

by Richard J. Shager

When a Cancer comes to call us,
With all forces we embrace.
Let us all arise to fight it,
Live and Love from day to day.

As our loved ones come to aid us,
Let us greet and meet them here.
Day by day they daily tend us,
As they hope recovery.

When the doctors give the verdict,
And the tests refuse to lie.
Let us all make “HOPE” our army,
To survive and live each day.

As recovery leads to freedom,
From the dreaded chemo flee,
To the life of greatness heal us,
Our pronouncement cancer free!

So each day we live for family,
And the hope of cures to be.
That our life that lies before us,
Will be great and cancer free.

As our angels soar above us,
Let us join the victory;
To allow us all the freedoms,
For a cure will surely be.

Now let's all be glad forever,
To the battle we must see.
As we join in gladly singing,
Cancer – We defeated thee.

Fight and fight we must continue,
For the forces to decree.
That all cancer is now conquered!
Live and Love for all to see.
